Old Resident Gone.

John Edgar, the well known old shoemaker who has so long kept shop next to Maguires Express office on King street, died on Saturday last at his residence on Kinau street, old age being the cause. The deceased was a native of Scotland but has been long a resident of this city, where he has enjoyed the reputation of being one of those noblest works, "an honest man." The body was in terred at Makiki, undertaker Henry Williams superintending the funeral. Mr. Edgar leaves relatives in San Francisco.

The Hawailan.

The neatest budget of local news for sending abroad is, by all odds, the Hawaiian. It is issued every Friday morning. Its local news is all specially prepared for it, indifferent trifles being elimin ated. There is a complete record of shipping, litigation and business. The Hawaiian contains the official bulletin of the Bureau of Agriculture, besides other practic al information for farmers.

Considerate Action.

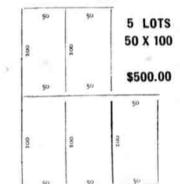

Henry Porter, the old resident of Hilo whose death is just report ed, was the brother of Daniel Porter, clerk of the Circuit Court, It was to allow Mr. Porter to be at the beside of his sick brother that Henry Smith, chief clerk of the Judiciary, assigned J. A. Thompson, second deputy clerk, last week to officiate at the Kohala

Morse Concert.

There was not a large audience at the Morse concert Saturday night although the gram was an excellent one and well given. There will be another concert, at popular prices, this week.
